

Women Howling at the Moon

Women Howling is a Brisbane-based community of make-a-difference women from many backgrounds and ages who share a deep passion for contributing to a life and a world that works for everyone and the planet, particularly with regard to women, peace, social justice and the environment.

We value the importance of connecting authentically with other women and sharing deep diving conversation on things that matter while having a fabulous time together.

We meet monthly on the night of the full moon. We dine; we share stories of courage, challenges and our dreams; we often have a mini-workshop on a particular topic that would make a difference in our lives – and oh yes, we howl! We leave the evenings inspired and with renewed hope and energy for our lives and the world.

Since it was founded in early 2013, Women Howling has been creating a unique, expanding space for empowerment, contribution and community – with direct results for participants. The events are not-for-profit, with all profits donated to support the work of the Kapululangu Aboriginal Women's Law and Culture Centre, a remote Aboriginal women's centre in Western Australia's Great Sandy Desert.
